

St. John's Book Fair

Next week will be a chance to celebrate the school's "Love of Reading" by buying new books at below the normal retail price found in the shops. The school is running a Book Fair in school on Thursday 23rd November 3.15pm in the Hall.

The benefit is not only to get children reading and valuing books but if the school raises more than a certain amount the school will receive free books to stock our reading library.

In school, the children will be given a chance to look at the books before they buy and share a "wish list" with their parents. These lists can then help parents decide what books they would be happy to buy on the day. Parents can pay in cash or there will be an option to buy using a debit card through a dedicated website (a QR code will be provided).

There is also a competition to win a voucher of £5 to go towards buying a book at the Fair entitled 'Reading with my...'

Children need to provide a photo of themselves reading with someone or a pet.

We are looking for creativity and a sense of reading fun.

Winners will be judged by the school librarians.

Take the photo, print it out and bring into school.
